Stranded Brit tourists back from Egypt by end of week

THE remainder of Britons stuck in Sharm el-Sheikh after the Russian plane crash should be home by the end of the week.

Routine UK-bound flights were suspended and security raised amid fears the crash was caused by a bomb.

Special flights began on Friday and Foreign Secretary Philip Hammond said 7,000 Britons will have returned by the end of Tuesday.

Those tourists stranded beyond their planned return date were set to be "cleared" soon after that, he said.

Around 20,000 British nationals were in the resort at the time of the crash on 31 October.

All 224 people on the board the Russian Metrojet flight from Sharm el-Sheikh to St Petersburg died when the aircraft came down in the Sinai desert.

Easyjet's chief executive Carolyn McCall is backing calls to tighten airport security around the world.

Former German leader dead at 96

FORMER chancellor Helmut Schmidt, who guided West Germany through economic turbulence and Cold War tensions from 1974 to 1982, has died aged 96.

Mr Schmidt, a centre-left Social Democrat, was elected chancellor after the resignation of fellow Social Democrat Willy Brandt, triggered when a top aide to Mr Brandt was unmasked as an East German agent.

EX-PARA HELD OVER BLOODY SUNDAY KILLINGS

A FORMER British soldier is being questioned by cops on suspicion of murdering three civil rights demonstrators in Derry-Londonderry on Bloody Sunday.

The ex-paratrooper, who was detained in Co Antrim, is the first person arrested by detectives probing the deaths of the 14 people killed after the Army opened fire on crowds of protesters in the city's Bogside in January 1972.

It is understood the 66-year-old pensioner was arrested on suspicion of the murders of William Nash, 19, John Young, 17, and Michael McDaid, 20, all of whom were shot dead at a rubble barricade on Rossville Street.

Shot

The ex-soldier is also believed to be being quizzed about the attempted murder of William Nash's father Alexander, who came to the barrier to save his son but was shot in the arm and body.

It is understood the soldier gave evidence to the Government-commissioned inquiry into Bloody Sunday, undertaken by Lord Saville, under the cipher Lance Corporal J.

The sister of William Nash,

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Kate Nash, welcomed the development.

"We have always fought very hard to be treated equally within the justice system," she said.

"I see this as a positive step."

Thirteen people were killed by members of the Parachute Regiment on the day of the incident. Another victim of the shootings died in hospital four months later.

The Police Service of Northern Ireland's murder investigation into the events of Bloody Sunday was launched in 2012 after the Saville Inquiry found that none of the victims was posing a threat to soldiers when they were shot.

After the publication of the Saville report in 2010, Prime Minister David Cameron apologised for the Army's actions, branding them "unjustified and unjustifiable".

Detained

In September, the PSNI announced their intention to interview seven ex-soldiers about their involvement on the day.

The suspect detained on Tuesday morning by the PSNI's Legacy Investigations Branch is being questioned at a police station in Belfast.

The officer leading the investigation, Detective Chief Inspector Ian Harrison, said the arrest marked a "new phase in the overall investigation".

Mickey McKinney, whose brother William McKinney was one of those killed, also welcomed the arrest.

"We are hopeful this is the start now of bringing in suspects to be questioned," he said.

"Our quest for justice goes on. We are not going to stop until the people responsible for the murders are in court and sentenced."

Teen girl 'was used for sex by Asian gang'

A TEENAGE girl was exploited and used for sex by a group of Asian males, a court has heard.

Drug dealer Arif Choudhury arranged sexual encounters in Keighley, West Yorkshire, between the girl - who was aged 13 and 14 at the time - and the group of men and boys, Bradford Crown Court was told.

Thirteen men and a 17-year-old youth are on trial charged with a total of 28 sexual offences between them.

The court heard that the girl, who was vulnerable and lived a "chaotic existence", was first raped by Choudhury in May 2011 after she told him she wanted to stop delivering drugs.

He physically assaulted her and took her to a churchyard, where he raped her.

Michelle Colborne QC, prosecuting, said Choudhury then began exploiting the girl by introducing her to other men, who had sex with her and made her give them oral sex.

She told the jury: "The prosecution say he (Choudhury) was the reason why (the girl) came to be exploited and used by these men."

Ms Colborne continued: "He introduced her to a number of these men. Some were equally nasty in their treatment of her."

Struggled

"One or two seemed to be ashamed after the event, but used her nevertheless."

She added: "At times she said 'no', at times she struggled, and at times she gave in without saying anything at all."

"At no times was she consenting to the act."

"The prosecution say they knew she didn't want that, whether she fought them off or not."

Ms Colborne told the jury that many of the offences took place in an underground car park in Keighley.

Police found graffiti on a wall bearing the name of the girl and the names of some of the defendants. Crime officers also found semen matching the DNA of one defendant.

The court heard how the girl began truanting from school and staying out at night when she was around 12.

Ms Colborne said: "She was being exploited and was out of her depth but was too naive to do anything about it."

STUDENT TRIED TO JOIN I.S.

A TEENAGER who attempted to travel to Syria to fight for Islamic State has been found guilty of terror offences.

Ednane Mahmood, 19, from Blackburn, Lancashire, was convicted by a jury of attempting to travel to Syria to commit acts of terrorism.

The university student was also found guilty of two counts of providing others with internet links to speeches and propaganda, and at the time of doing so was reckless as to whether his conduct would be a direct or indirect encouragement or other inducement to the commission, preparation or instigation of acts of terrorism.

The trial at Manchester Crown Court heard that Mahmood had downloaded videos showing British aid worker David Haines being beheaded before fleeing from his home during the early hours to travel to Syria on September 18 last year.

He boarded a flight from Manchester Airport to Bulgaria with little money and few possessions, leaving a letter addressed "To Family" stating his intentions.

But the court heard that he never got to Syria. On September 20, from an Internet cafe, he was in Twitter communication with his brother, who persuaded him to come back to the UK.

Mahmood claimed he became "stranded" on the Turkey side of the border, alone, upset and running out of money. He will be sentenced on December 11.

Metal man calls for teenagers to be neutered!

THE frontman of US metal band Lamb of God is recovering after being attacked by a gang of teenagers while taking night-time photos in Dublin.

Randy Blythe (above) said the city's children should be "neutered and spayed" after he was hit across the head near his hotel in the docklands by a group of five or six youngsters in hoodies.

The singer said he was taking some long exposure pictures of the Samuel Beckett bridge over the Liffey at about midnight on Sunday when he was set upon.

In the Irish capital as support for metal band Megadeth, Lamb Of God were on stage on Monday night playing to thousands of fans in the 3Arena.

A passing taxi driver intervened, with Blythe claiming the cab was driven at the gang.

He suffered a cut elbow, a headache and lost his glasses, a new hat and his e-cigarette in the attack.

Blythe said: "Dublin, I still love you...but please neuter and spay your feral children."

Asda pulls out of Black Friday

ASDA has announced it will not be part of Black Friday this year, citing "shopper fatigue" around the one-day sales event.

The retail giant said customer feedback was behind its decision to invest in £26 million of savings for shoppers across the whole season, rather than a one-off day of sales.

It claimed shopper fatigue had set in around flash sales on big-ticket, non-essential items at Christmas.

The Walmart-owned store, credited with introducing Black Friday to the UK in 2013, faced criticism for its poor handling of the event last year when some crazed shoppers fought over deals in stores.

A spokesman said: "Customers have told us loud and clear they don't want to be held hostage to a day or two of sales."

GUILTY:
Mary-Ellen
Mooney

Babysitter's onesie sex romps with teenage boy

A WOMAN babysitter who forced a 13-year-old boy to carry out sex acts on her at a onesie party, before sending him explicit Facebook messages, was yesterday spared prison.

Mary-Ellen Mooney rubbed the boy's thigh and kissed him before putting his hand down her knickers while babysitting him.

Mooney committed the sex acts on three separate occasions during an evening looking after the boy – who, each time, dashed up the stairs to tell a pal who was playing games.

Then two days later she sent him Facebook messages where she referred to the youngster as “babe”, saying that she had “a real soft spot” for him and believed the boy had “a hidden talent.”

Mooney was arrested and charged with two offences, which she initially denied before finally admitting her guilt on what was meant to be the morning of her trial.

The offences were committed at the boy's home over the weekend of January 10 and 11, when Mooney was 18.

Prosecutor Graham Smith said she found her victim and his friend in his bedroom playing computer games when she arrived to babysit.

Noticing they were both wearing onesies, she suggested having a onesie party and went back home to change into hers.

When she returned she suggested watching a film downstairs.

Mooney's victim agreed to come with her, but the friend stayed upstairs in the bedroom playing video games.

Mr Smith told the court: “She started touching him on his upper thigh. He asked her to stop, which she did.

“He started to become sexually excited. He got up and went upstairs to the bedroom. As she followed, she said she was winding him up. They went back downstairs.

“She put on the music channel and started dancing. She then sat on top of him, straddling him face to face. She then kissed him on the lips. “He described it as open and closed mouth, but with no tongues. He didn't feel like he wanted to kiss her back.

“The boy came back downstairs and found Mooney had by now changed into pyjamas.

“She sat in front of him with her back to him. She pulled his right arm around her body, as if to hug her.

“She took his right hand and placed it inside her pyjamas and onto her vagina area.

“She took her hand out, leaving his there, before placing her hand over his through the clothing and started to move his hand back and forth.”

Mr Smith said the boy's hand did not penetrate Mooney's vagina.

Two days later, Mooney sent a number of sexually explicit messages to the boy through Facebook.

Mooney, of Bradwell Common, Milton Keynes, Bucks, was also made the subject of a five-year Sexual Harm Prevention Order, banning her from unsupervised contact with boys under 16, and has been placed on the Sex Offenders' Register for 10 years.

DR FOX 'DRY HUMPED RADIO GIRL ON SOFA'

ON TRIAL: Entertainer Neil Fox (right) denies 10 counts of sexual assault made during his 30-year career

Forced to quit after complaint to boss, court told

A FORMER Magic Radio worker was asked to quit after accusing station star DJ Neil Fox of sexual assaulting her and using a racist slur, a court heard yesterday.

The 54-year-old radio presenter, also known as ‘Foxy’ and ‘Dr Fox’, is accused of tickling the woman so vigorously that her top fell down, before thrusting and simulating sex with her on a sofa.

The unnamed woman, who worked at the radio station, said Fox ‘does not know his boundaries’ and was once heard using a racist slur in the Magic offices.

She claims she was forced into redundancy just after complaining about Fox's behaviour in 2007.

And she claims the managing director of the radio station took her aside and suggested she should leave.

Sleazy

She told the court: “After I made the complaint, I was probably made redundant and had to leave the company two or three months after.

“It was not a long time after making the complaint.”

She said she waited ‘a couple of months’ before making a complaint to the HR manager and then the MD because she knew her job would be at risk.

She added: “I already

By TRISTAN KIRK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

knew I felt uncomfortable, I found Neil sleazy, but I knew the moment I made a complaint my job would be at risk.

“At the time, he was the money maker – it was the No.1 breakfast show in London.”

Jonathan Caplan QC, defending Fox, asked: “Do you attribute the fact you lost your job to the complaint you made?”

She replied: “I think that's part of it, it may be one of the things that started off the process.”

She claims the former Pop Idol judge sexually assaulted her while another Magic Radio employee took pictures on his mobile phone.

The woman said: “Neil got up off his chair and started tickling me.

“I was wearing an off the shoulder top, off my right shoulder, and he put his hands up the top to my waist and was tickling.

“I asked him to get off – get off me – but he found it quite funny.

“He manoeuvred me over to the sofa through tickling, and once I got to the sofa – the arm of the sofa – he sort of pushed me back so I was lying with my back to the sofa.

“He jumped on top of me and started thrusting, simulating sex on top of me.

“We are face to face, I'm asking him to get off me. I'm not sure how long this lasted but it felt like a long time.”

She said that Fox eventually relented and went back to his desk, and she told him ‘don't ever do that to me again’ before storming out.

Breast

She said during the incident: “The right side of the clothing came down – I was wearing a bra – but it came down beneath my right breast.”

She confronted her colleague later about the incident to see if he had been taking pictures.

She told the court: “I asked if he had taken any pictures, he told me he had and I asked if I could have them

“He said he'd deleted them. I felt really quite sick about what had happened. I didn't want them to be circulated, and I may have wanted to report the incident to HR and I may want to show the pictures.”

The woman also complained about Fox using the racial slur during the formal redundancy process that she went through.

The DJ is on trial accused of eight indecent assaults and two sexual assaults spanning nearly 30 years of his career.

Fox, of Fulham, south west London, denies two charges of sexual assault, four indecent assaults on girls and four indecent assaults on women.

The trial continues.

Dismembered by sex fiend

DRUNK VICTIM KILLED HOURS AFTER PUB MEET

A WOMAN was strangled and then dismembered by a man she met at a pub a few hours earlier, a court has been told.

Cardiff Crown Court heard Christopher Nigel May killed Tracey Woodford in what was a “sexually-motivated” attack.

Prosecutor Roger Thomas said May began flirting with an intoxicated Ms Woodford while at the Skinny Dog pub in Pontypridd.

After closing time, the pair were seen walking towards May's home.

Mr Thomas said: “That was the last time anyone saw her alive, apart from the defendant.”

He added: “Tracey Elizabeth Woodford was strangled some time between April 21 and 22.

“The defendant admits his actions were responsible in causing her death but disputes his conduct amounts to murder.

“The prosecution says that this was a brutal, vicious and sexually-motivated murder.

“After her death she was mutilated and dismembered.

“These actions were carried out deliberately and methodically with the intention of concealing her body parts, and thereby evading detection.”

The court heard that Ms Woodford was a “slim, petite” single woman who lived with her mother and brother in the village of Rhydyfelin.

“Apart from collecting money at the Post Office, going to the shops and visiting local pubs, she did not go out very much,” added Mr Thomas.

On the afternoon of April 21, Ms Woodford went into town to buy a ring from pawn shop Cash Generators before deciding to go for a drink.

Jurors were told the deceased spent the afternoon drinking and was refused alcohol in a Wetherspoon pub and Alfred's Bar after appearing unsteady.

At 7.45pm, Ms Woodford then headed to the Skinny Dog pub and struck up a conversation with May and two of his friends.

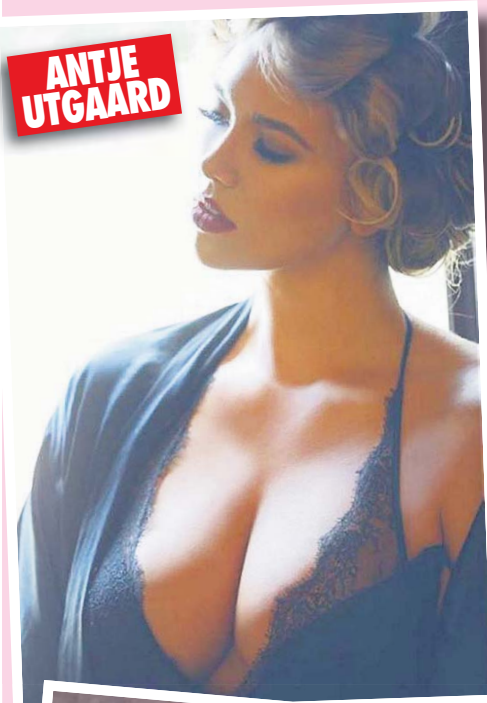

“There was flirting taking place between Tracey Woodford and Christopher May,” added Mr Thomas.

“She was spoken to by someone and told, ‘If I buy you a few more drinks, would you come home with me tonight?’”

The trial continues.

STRAIGHT TALKING

FROM UKIP'S DEPUTY LEADER

Madness of overpaid public sector fat cats

WHO is more important – the President of the United States or the town clerk of Cumbria?

It may seem like a no brainer, until you look at their respective wage slips. Barack Obama, as leader of the free world and arguably the most important person on the planet, earns $400,000 a year, which is just shy of £270,000 in real money.

Whereas Jill Stannard, until very recently the "chief executive" of Cumbria County Council, last year earned £411,025.

It can't just be me that spots the glaring disparity here. A town hall mandarin earns A THIRD more than the U.S. President?

If only hers was a rogue example of public sector pay – but sadly, inevitably, it is not.

Wild

The astonishing sums of money being paid out to council and NHS executives has been revealed this week in a remarkable set of reports – and some of the figures unearthed are mind-boggling.

Never a day goes by without both local authorities and NHS trusts complaining about a lack of money.

Yet it is hard to take their cries of penury seriously when presented with evidence of wild numbers seemingly plucked from thin air and then transferred into the bank accounts of pin-striped suits.

Did you know, for instance, that in the NHS there are 50,084 individuals earning more than £100,000 a year?

That's more than FIVE

BILLION QUID on executive health service salaries – and yet almost none of these people will be actual nurses.

Tricia Hart, who runs the South Tees Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, is another glaring example of public sector wages spiralling out of all control.

She earns a salary of between £220,000 and £225,000 – already more than the Prime Minister – but took added pension benefits worth up to £1.04MILLION, too.

And yet, under her management, the trust's financial deficit grew from £2.9m to £4.4m in 2013/14 – and it has also been admonished for failing to meet infection control targets.

While they lay off lollipop ladies, turn off the street lights and close down other special services, councils continue to lash money around like a drunken sailor when it comes to the executive club.

Some 3,483 people working in town halls up and down the country are pocketing more than £100k a year – with 537 of those "earning" more than £150k, which is again more than our PM.

When did it come to this? When did town clerks become "chief executives"?

When did these often failing suits become worth more than David Cameron or indeed Barack Obama?

Public sector pay has entered the world of the madhouse, with salaries set by a merry-go-round cabal of administrators who flit from borough to borough and hospital to hospital wheeling barrow-loads of taxpayers' cash along the way.

Don't listen to any rubbish about having to pay the right money to get the right people, either – too many public services are being slashed or failing while the people running them earn a fortune.

Expense

If these individuals were so talented, trust me, they'd be in the private sector elbowing their way into PLC boardrooms.

But they're not, so instead they ride on the public sector gravy train, looking after their mates at everyone else's expense.

George Osborne has said a lot about curbing these sky-high salaries – but has actually done very little.

It's time these fat cats were put on a permanent diet.

THE Prime Minister laid out his terms of negotiation for what he describes as "reform" of the European Union on Tuesday.

Let's look at the detail of them one at a time:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

Justin Dunn's Room 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

SOMETHING sinister is going on under our very noses... yet few people know much about it.

The proposed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership between the United States and the European Union could change life as we know it forever.

It may sound a bit dull – and anything to do with global trade largely IS a bit dull – but what's being discussed behind closed doors has dark undertones.

The idea of TTIP is to create the world's biggest free trade zone spanning the north Atlantic, meaning "tariffs" between the US and the EU would be scrapped.

Theoretically, that means lower bills for companies, which should translate into lower prices for plebs like you and me.

But like anything that will boost profits for some of the world's largest companies – and that's what TTIP will definitely do – the devil is in the detail.

And the problem is that detail is at best hazy, with discussions about TTIP taking place in secret.

The biggest concern here is the threat it poses to the National Health Service.

Thanks to the proposed deal's "investor-state dispute settlement", companies will be able to sue governments

TTIP would be good for profits, bad for the NHS whose regulations put future profits at risk.

So for example, fracking firms could take the government to court for banning risky drilling, or private healthcare providers could sue a government which tries to protect the NHS.

And as you may be aware, America's legal system is not exactly known for being backward in coming forward.

Some argue that by signing up to TTIP we're throwing our vital public services into the jaws of the courtroom hyenas of Manhattan.

And that's not all. Opponents say food giants could use those investor-state dispute settlements to bully governments into dropping legislation to improve food standards.

This could arguably see the return of banned food products such as chicken in chlorine and growth hormones in beef.

The EU has a ban on the testing of beauty products on animals such as rabbits, but the United States does not.

Could that horrible practice see a return, too?

Also, in order to match US standards, the UK could be forced to reverse its ban on asbestos, which can cause deadly mesothelioma – the very thing that killed my own dad.

Worse still, parts of the deal won't be revealed to us mere taxpayers until the agreement is already settled upon by the two sides – so we'll just be presented with a fait accompli and left to like it or lump it.

Politicians – representing us – who want to find out more can only do so in a highly-secure room in Brussels, where they have to leave their phones and tablets at the door and aren't even allowed to take in a pen and paper to make notes.

If that doesn't say SHIFTY in loud capital letters, then I don't know what does.

But not to worry, folks – because governments and big business on both sides of the pond are rubbing their hands with glee...

Karl: Boner terror while hotel burned

THE Moaning of Life star Karl Pilkington has revealed he almost died in a fire – due to an ERECTION!

The wacky telly presenter confessed he refused to leave his hotel room during a blaze – despite a fireman's pleas – as he still had a boner.

Karl was enjoying a steamy love session with his girlfriend when the embarrassing incident occurred.

He said: "We stayed at this apartment in Tenerife. We started having it away a bit."

But their fun was interrupted by a loud banging on their door.

He added: "I open the door and it's a fireman. I just stick my head round and he's going, 'You'll have to get out! The building is on fire!'"

"So I'm like, 'In a minute.' I couldn't get my pants on!"

"Suzanne was saying, 'Think of something that's not sexy.' So I started to think of people dying in a fire."

Karl – who is best mates with funnyman Ricky Gervais – added: "I am not a machine. I cannot turn it on and off straight away."

Drone kills police horse

COPS are hunting the owner of a drone that may have been involved in the death of a police horse.

Fimber, a 14-year-old horse who joined West Yorkshire Police in 2004, died after he vaulted the fence of his paddock and collided with a wooden post after appearing to be spooked.

Officers later found a radio-controlled drone at the site near Wakefield, West Yorks.

The owner of the Walkera Runner 250, which costs about £200, is now being sought by the force after the incident last month.

A police spokesman said: "We have reviewed CCTV footage which shows Fimber bolting seemingly in reaction to something nearby. This resulted in his death."

"We cannot discount that this drone was involved."

Jamie

JENKINS

BI-CURIOUS beauty Jamie Jenkins has dished the dirt on her fantasy for a kinky lesbian FOURWAY romp!

The 25-year-old stunna may look like butter wouldn't melt but she spilled the beans on her very wild side.

Jamie admitted that she feels her best when she's naked, so here she is stripped down to her patriotic panties showing off her impressive 32C curves.

And the gorgeous brunette, who hails from Cobham, Surrey, revealed that she loves boobs so much that she'd need a helping hand from two other willing ladies

By JACK MOTTERSHEAD
news@sundaysport.co.uk

to have her wicked way with a lucky fella.

Jamie said: "I'd love to have a foursome – but it would have to be with two girls and one bloke.

"That way we're the ones always in charge.

"Me and the girls would have a bit of a fool around and the guy would have to satisfy us until he's absolutely spent!

"He'd have to have plenty of stamina though – but I'm sure we could find a few ways to keep him going."

Bus driver

'caught wking'

THIS is the moment a bus driver was caught performing a solo SEX ACT – on the top deck of his vehicle.

The London bus driver was caught naked from the waist down, leaning between two seats at the top of the parked bus in a depot.

He appeared to be vigorously pleasuring himself in the middle of the day and in view of the entire street.

Mohamud Mohamud, 38, and his brother Hazma, 26, were stood outside their home when the situation unfolded on Saturday.

The driver of the 123 bus route to Ilford, north London, was stood right by the steamy window that faces onto the road.

Mohamud said: "I was so shocked. I saw he is almost naked on the top of the bus and could see him rocking forwards and backwards."

"At first I couldn't

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

figure out what he was doing, but when I realised I got my phone out to start recording."

After 90 seconds, the driver completes the act and pulls his trousers over his large belly.

Mohamud, who went on to confront the driver, explained that the bus route is frequented by children and he was upset when an elderly woman spotted the sex act as she walked past.

GONE GIRL BABE'S RAUNCHY WEB PICS

STUNNING Emily Ratajkowski gave male fans something to dream about – after posting a naked bedtime snap online.

The racy picture appears to have been taken in a plush New York apartment and shows the 23-year-old dressed in nothing but a pair of tiny frilly panties, resting her pert cheeks on a chair, holding her hair with one hand and covering her chest.

Followers reacted immediately by viewing the black and white image, which included the caption “Night NYC”, 180,000 times in just a few hours after it was posted on her Instagram page.

London-born Emily also posted a saucy picture of her laying naked on the floor and once shot down surgery rumours by posting a topless selfie with the comment: “My boobs are real!”

Emily shot to fame as a topless dancing girl in the music video for Robin Thicke’s global smash Blurred Lines, in 2013.

She went on to star in movie thriller Gone Girl alongside Ben Stiller and We Are Your Friends with Zac Efron.

Kinky Kara's the mother of all truckers!

A SAUCY female lorry driver who has appeared in raunchy photographs proudly flaunting her wagons has been crowned Trucker of the Year.

Flame-haired Kara Rouse has previously stripped down into skimpy outfits next to her Barbie-pink cab to raise funds for a charity calendar.

The mum-of-three became the first winner of the award following a public vote to find Britain's best lorry driver.

The 41-year-old was chosen from over 100 entries as one of the 12 finalists.

Kara, whose scantily-clad trucking girls calendar has set the target of raising £10,000 for Cancer Research UK, has also featured on the ‘Bin There Dump That!’ telly show that aired on Watch in February.

Kara, of South Normanton, Derbyshire, said: “I am so excited, I can’t believe I have been nominated by so many. “I have found the nominations very moving. After all, I am just being me.”

Fact me!

ITV bosses want ‘filth’ after Corrie

FRUSTRATED telly bosses have complained that ITV doesn’t have enough “naughty” shows – and they want MORE FILTH!

The broadcaster’s comedy commissioner Saskia Schuster is trying to drag the media giant away from ‘clean’ programming.

And she has her sights on the 8.30pm ITV2 slot, that would allow viewers to change channels after Corrie for something more hard hitting.

Schuster joined ITV from Sky in May last year and is hoping to give the channel’s comedy shows a raunchy kick start.

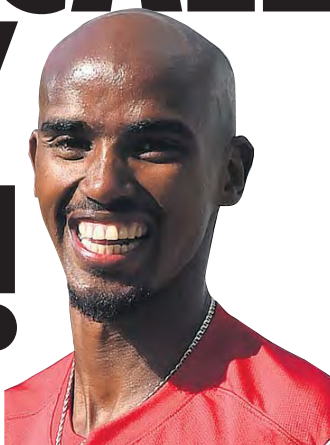

She said: “I’m not being pitched enough naughty scripts for ITV2. It’s difficult. “So yes, we’re on a bit of a journey and we’re absolutely committed to it.”

MO: I WAS GUNNER CALL MY BABY ARSENAL!

FOOTIE-MAD athlete Mo Farah wanted to name his baby after his favourite football club.

The Olympic gold medal hero, 32, revealed his plans to give his new-born son the name 'Arsenal' as a tribute to the north London side.

Farah has made his love for the Gunners no secret ever since he shot to stardom as Britain's most successful runner.

He recently became the first man to win the 'triple double', with gold medals in the 5,000 and 10,000 metres in the Olympics and two world championships.

In addition to his world record performances, the Somali-born athlete has had a successful year off the track – welcoming his first son into the world, after already fathering three daughters.

Upon hearing the news he would be a dad again, Mo discussed the idea of a footie-themed name with his wife but to Mo's despair, she was having none of it.

He said: "Growing up I would never have thought that I'd be a double Olympic champion, with a lovely home and beautiful kids. "To top it off I wanted 'Arsenal' to be Hussein's middle name, but Tania wasn't having it."

The diehard Gooner described how this act would have been the ultimate form of dedication to his beloved club.

In the past he was paraded on the Emirates Stadium pitch after his athletics success and wore a pair of Arsenal spikes for a race.

BRITAIN was plunged into despair as hit show Downton Abbey came to an end on Sunday.

Luckily, fans of the ITV series will get more than one chance to say their goodbyes to the drama's busty beauties when it returns for a Christmas Special.

And as these naked snaps show, its lovely leading ladies are certainly worth a double-take.

In our collection of raunchy pictures sexy stars Clare Higgins, Janet Montgomery, Shirley Maclaine, Joanne Froggatt and even Maggie Smith literally show us what it's like above and even below stairs!

One source close to the show said: "Anyone who watched the final episode will have shed a tear. It became a family Sunday night staple over the last five years."

"And one things for sure, there have been plenty of reasons to get the tissues out thanks to the talents of its cast."

Downton won a string over awards over its six series and peaked with an audience of 9.5million. So turn the page to see who else made our saucy line-up.

And there are more Downton Abbey babes with their jugs out on page 13 Mr Carson!

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

● THIS week has been really upsetting for me, as my close friend John Graham passed away aged 72 after a battle with lung cancer.

I want to dedicate this week's column to John – he was like a father figure to me and helped make me as successful as I am today.

Without him there would be no Linsey Dawn

McKenzie and you wouldn't be reading my column!

John shot my very first photos for the Sport and I was on contract with his company, Double D Productions, for the first 12 years of my career.

He guided me so well and led me down all the right paths to get as big in the industry as I am now.

Rest in peace, John.

● THE new John Lewis Christmas advert is finally out... and I think it's their best one yet!

I love seeing what they come up with every year. I welled up when the little girl spotted the lonely old man on the moon through her telescope – you'd have to have no heart to watch it without shedding a tear.

It's so sad to think of old people being on their own at Christmas and it's nice to see John Lewis putting out such a positive message.

It reminds people that Christmas isn't just all about the presents.

MEET ME AT SEXPO THIS WEEKEND

– See pages 28 & 29

● I WAS disgusted to read about the Premiership footballers who have been duped into dodgy investment deals, scamming them out of about £100million.

I was especially sad for the older players who have come to the end of their careers and lost their source of income, only to be hit with this.

But what I really want to know is who is advising these footballers or looking out for their interests? Whether they're young up-and-comers or older players looking for a way to invest their money at the end of their careers, someone is whispering in their ears telling them this is a good idea.

Behind the scenes the football world is a cut-throat place, and agents are more often than not just in it for themselves and looking to make money. It's dog eat dog.

Top footballers these days have more money than they can possibly spend, so they look for ways to invest it – and that makes them easy targets for financial advisors to trick them into these scams.

I think there needs to be some kind of law brought in for them to get their money back.

More importantly, though, something should be done about the despicable people pushing them into making these dodgy deals in the first place.

We've not seen the last of Seann!

ECCENTRIC:
Miley-Moore

CHILDISH:
Ora

I WAS gutted to see Seann Miley-Moore get the boot from X Factor.

The only consolation is that in the long run I don't think it will do him any harm.

His voice was absolutely phenomenal and I see him more as the star of a West End show, rather than a pop star selling out arenas.

He is so eccentric and I think he would be incredible on the stage.

I would rather have seen Mason Noise dumped, but I think his days are numbered anyway.

Spat

He showed the public what he was really like when he had that spat with Simon at Boot Camp, so I don't think it will be long until he's voted off.

I'm still rooting for Louisa to win the show, she gets better every week.

But her mentor, Rita Ora, needs to stop acting like a child. Some of the stuff she comes out with is just embarrassing.

If you ask me, Simon should bring back experienced judges like Louis and Sharon Osbourne.

That would make the show great again!

PRETTY Penny Lee would love to take one for the team – after she revealed her fantasies for a kinky THREESOME.

The 32E stunna is a self-confessed nymphomaniac who said that despite her efforts, she just can't get enough sex!

Penny, 23, revealed the only way to fully satisfy her is if she had her way with TWO guys at the same time.

She said: "I know that some girls like the idea of a three-way with a guy and a girl, but for me it has to be with two men."

"They would both be looking at me while taking turns dominating me. That would be really hot."

But that's not all the Worthing born model has to offer, as she admitted she would be so turned on that she would be up for a bit of BUM FUN with her two lucky lovers, too.

She added: "I'd probably take things a little further by letting them both indulge in some anal sex."

"I never turn anal down – I absolutely love it!"

Busted reunite for tour

Busted have reunited after Charlie Simpson agreed to rejoin the band – despite frequent vows never to return.

Simpson (above) is to join James Bourne and Matt Willis for a UK and Ireland tour as the You Said No trio get back together for the first time since 2005.

Willis said: "We're back! Busted are back. We're stoked and we're going on tour next year."

On his previous declarations that he would never return, Simpson said: "I genuinely meant that. There wasn't a time I said that I didn't mean it wholeheartedly. I have changed my mind."

Earlier this year, Bourne persuaded Simpson to secretly join him in a studio for a week in Philadelphia, where they put together a number of new songs – a catalyst for the reunion.

Bourne said: "We didn't know what it would be like being in the studio again so we wanted it to be a no-pressure experience for us."

"It was a really fun time. It felt like we were hanging out like old friends."

Monster reptiles used as guards

JAIL HOUSE CROC!

JAILED drug smugglers are to be banged up on an unescapable island – guarded by CROCODILES.

A top cop dreamed up the scheme after realising that the sharp toothed reptiles make better guards than his men – because they can not be BRIBED.

Budi Waseso, the head of the National Narcotics Agency in Indonesia, has proposed building a high security block for the country's captured smugglers.

And he hopes to draft in the fiercest beasts by scouring the country and shipping the creatures in.

Indonesia has some of the toughest drug laws in the world and ended a four-year ban on executions in 2013.

Waseso said: "You can't bribe crocodiles. You can't convince them to let inmates escape."

"We will place as many crocodiles as we can there."

"I will search for the most ferocious type of crocodile"

By SAM WALKER

samw@sundaysport.co.uk

He added the new jail will not contain human guards and will be completely isolated from the outside world.

He said inmates will "have to survive on their own" apart from daily "food supplies" when the unit is built.

Waseo will now visit crocodile farms in North Sumatra and Papua province in search of the most dangerous breeds.

Stirling effort!

DETECTORISTS BABE TOPLESS

HERE are the boobs you won't see in BBC comedy The Detectorists.

The BBC Four show stars Pirates of the Caribbean's Mackenzie Crook and actor Toby Jones as friends Andy and Lance, who are members of their local metal detecting club.

And the laugh-out-loud series, which was also written by The Office legend Crook, stars stage stunna Rachael Stirling as his on-screen girlfriend Becky.

The pals fancy themselves as amateur archaeologists and set about hunting for hidden treasures in the fictional Essex town of Danebury.

Now in its second series, which started last month, the programme attracted the highest audience for a comedy in BBC Four's history after it first aired last year.

Sadly, Stirling keeps her clothes on in her latest TV offering.

But she previously bared all in 2002's Tipping the Velvet.

And here she is in all her glory in the BBC adaptation of the lesbian love story.

Countdown ace hunts down and bottles Asda girl

AN ex-Countdown champion hunted down and bottled an Asda shelf-stacker after she posted a bad review of his book online.

Richard Brittain smashed a wine bottle on the back of Paige Rolland's head in the Glenrothes store.

He used the internet to find out everything about the 18-year-old (above) – including where she lived and worked – after reading her comments on his self-published title, called The World Rose.

The 28-year-old wordsmith, who was crowned champion of the long-running C4 gameshow in 2006, then travelled 500 miles from his home in Palgrave, Beds, to the Fife town, tracking Miss Rolland down to her place of work and hammering the glass bottle into her skull.

The blow knocked her out and left her with a gash in her head for which she was treated in hospital.

At Glasgow Sheriff Court yesterday, Brittain pleaded guilty to assault on October 3, 2014.

Sheriff Martin Jones QC deferred sentence for reports. A motion for bail was refused.

RITA ORA: THE NAKED TRUTH

By SAM WALKER samw@sundaysport.co.uk

RITA Ora's amazing body has become the most searched celebrity flesh in Google search history.

Since rising to fame with single Hot Right Now in 2012, the phrase "Rita Ora naked" has been typed into the famous white box up to 2.5million times per month.

The bra-busting X Factor judge beat off competition from the pert cleavage of catwalk stunner Cara Delevingne, 23, the bikini filling set of Michelle Keegan, 28, and the eye-popping two of Corrie actress Catherine Tyldesley, 32.

Rita's double click success with wank-mad fans is being put down to her role on the ITV reality show.

Hits

The poll, which lists website hits for female UK celebrities, was carried out by boffins in Manchester.

Survey leader Barry Higgins said: "Rita is the woman of the moment thanks to her role on X Factor."

"So it's no surprise that blokes want to see her naked."

"And, as every man with a laptop will know, there's no better place to search than the internet."

THE NAKED TRUTH

She's top nude celeb online!

And according to our exclusive poll, her quick fingered fans will send that figure soaring even higher at Christmas as X Factor comes to a head.

Kosovo-born Rita is also helping ratings after admitting she WILL go naked.

In her biography Hot Right Now she is quoted as saying: "I've never been offered to pose naked but I don't ever find anything wrong with that."

"It's just a personal choice, I think. Sex appeal is either in you or it isn't."

Other celebrities to send keyboards into meltdown include Helen Flanagan, Jodie Marsh and politician Karen Danczuk, who all broke the 500,000 barrier.

Tiny thong fan
Ferne: I love to show my bum!

TOWIE scorch Ferne McCann loves to show off her juicy rear end by wearing skimpy THONGS.

The 25-year-old reality TV star (above) revealed that her underwear of choice is a tiny black thong because it lets her flaunt her best asset – her toned arse.

Ferne has teamed up with Caprice to model her By Caprice Lingerie range for the second year running.

And the reality telly stunna is also rumoured to be making an appearance on this year's I'm A Celebrity...Get Me Out of Here!

She said: "I love a thong. I think I've got a juicy bum and you should work with what you've got and show off your best assets."

And Ferne, who has been on The Only Way Is Essex since 2013, also confessed that Yank model Caprice is determined to set her up with one of her 'eligible bachelor' pals.

She said: "I told Caprice I was single and she was like, 'Babe, we totally need to set you up with one of my eligible bachelors.'"

SHERLOCK actor Benedict Cumberbatch swapped 221B Baker Street for Buckingham Palace yesterday as he was honoured by the Queen.

The 39-year-old stage and screen star was handed the CBE he was awarded in June's Birthday Honours.

Wearing traditional morning dress for the official ceremony, he declined to be interviewed afterwards.

Cumberbatch, who recently finished a run playing the title role in Hamlet at London's Barbican Theatre, was given the honour for services to the performing arts and to charity.

As well as playing Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's supersleuth, Sherlock Holmes, in the BBC's adaptation, Cumberbatch was also acclaimed this year for portraying computer scientist Alan Turing in The Imitation Game.

It was a role that saw him nominated for the Best Actor Oscar, losing out to fellow Brit Eddie Redmayne, who won the Academy Award for his performance as Stephen Hawking in The Theory Of Everything.

WOMBATS curl off cubic turds

A CHEATING couple were found murdered after having sex in their car.

The bodies of the 25-year-old man and the mum-of-five, 32, were discovered in the back of a people carrier in Pennsylvania's Fairmount Park – a hotspot for dogging.

Shakoor Arline and Lisa Smith had been seeing each other on-and-off for years but were also romantically linked to other people as well.

Cops said the pair were killed mid-bonk after a gunman opened the car door and shot them.

A cop said: "Somebody knew that they were in the park at that time and obviously had an issue with that."

"You've got nine shots fired, all of them head shots, so it appears to be a crime of passion."

Rock singer's son plunged to death after taking LSD

THE teenage son of musician Nick Cave fell to his death after taking hallucinogenic drug LSD, an inquest heard.

Arthur Cave, 15, suffered a fatal brain injury after plunging from a cliff onto the underpass of Ovingdean Gap in Brighton, East Sussex, on July 14.

The student was taken to the Royal Sussex County Hospital but died that evening.

The inquest in Brighton heard that Arthur was seen "staggering" on his own moments before he fell off the cliff.

Members of the public tried to resuscitate him after he was found lying on the ground without any shoes or socks on.

Australian rocker Nick Cave, 58, and his wife Susie briefly walked out of the courtroom as graphic details of the teenager's injuries were read from a post-mortem examination report.

The cause of death was from "multiple traumatic injuries due to a fall from a height".

DISHY Dani Maye literally jumps into a steamy shag FEET FIRST – because she loves having her TOES played with during sex.

The busty babe admitted she likes a good rough shag with her fella.

And having her blonde locks pulled during nookie really gets her going, too.

But Dani, 25, revealed that if her man wants to get her panties really wet he should play with her tootsies first.

Dani, from Kingston, Surrey, stripped down to show us her lovely pair in these racy snaps.

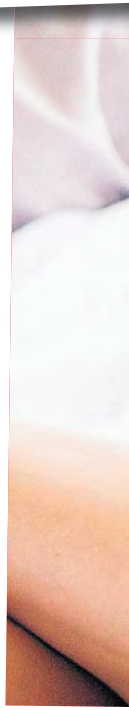

She said: "I love having my feet played with during sex."

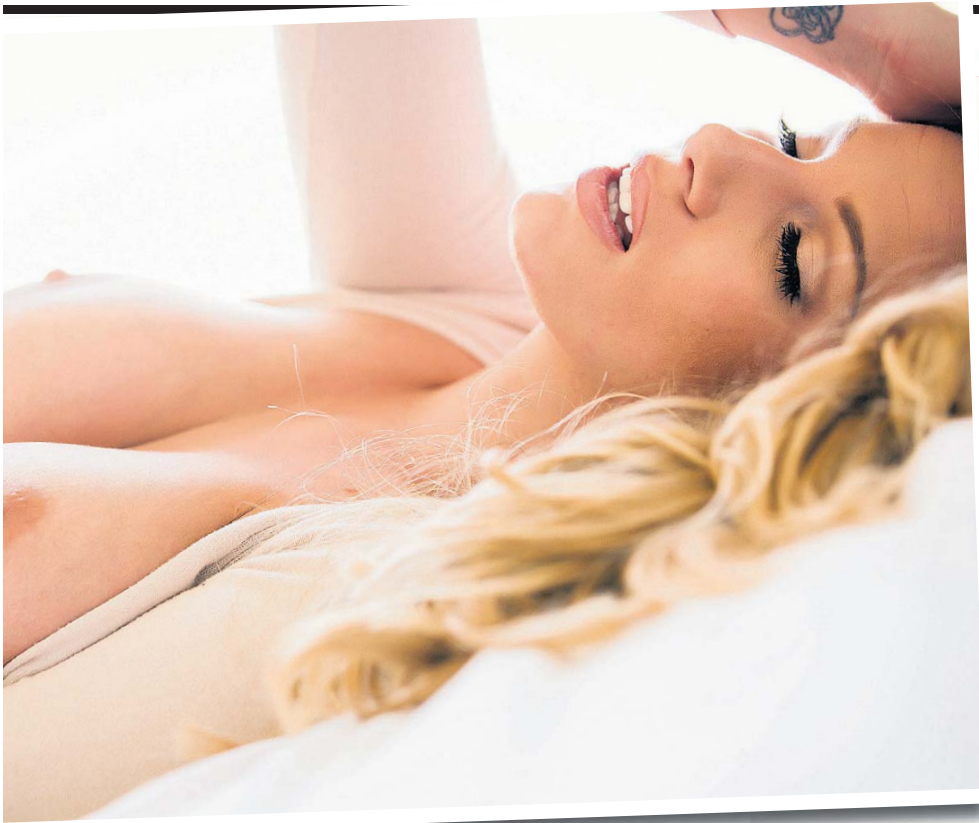

"It feels amazing – the tickling sensation gets me going. It's just really different and feels a bit kinky."

She added: "I love the feeling of not being in control whatsoever."

"It's a real turn-on – especially when my fella is being really rough with me."

"The guy can lean over you, grab a handful and give it a good tug – it's as horny as hell!"

Red-hot lovers can go all night after a stiffy drink!

Carrie Rothwell
Age 23, 32E-26-36 from Barnsley

IT'S the news every bloke has been waiting for – booze makes you BETTER at sex.

The announcement was made after a group of hop-obsessed eggheads found the chemicals in alcohol can help delay orgasm and keep you going for longer in bed.

Research has found that a pint of beer whose ABV is around five per cent is the optimum bonking fuel.

And a glass of ale a day makes you 31% less likely than tee-totalers to suffer from heart attacks, strokes or heart disease – meaning you'll be fitter to keep up with your lusty lady!

By SAM WALKER

samw@sundaysport.co.uk

Boffins discovered that the main benefits come from ingredients called phytoestrogens, which help prolong the action, while vitamins and iron in darker ales and stout help boost circulation and get a man in the mood.

Erection

The study was carried out by sex therapist Kat Van Kirk, who said: "The phytoestrogens in alcohol delay ejaculation.

"So if you've been known to shoot too early, just have a pint instead of desperately thinking non-sexy thoughts about maths equations or your elderly neighbours.

"On the flipside, don't drink so much you can't get things started at all!"

The iron in darker beer helps your red blood cells create haemoglobin, which carries oxygen around the body, improves your circulation and also gives a stronger erection.

But it's bad news for pale ale and wine drinkers – as their chosen poison has the opposite effect.

Sexy model Carrie Rothwell from Barnsley, South Yorks said: "There's nothing worse than when a bloke is nervous on a first date.

"It's much better when you've both had a drink and can relax with each other.

"And it's good to know if it does get steamy, he's going to be able to last longer and give me what I want."

Three cheers to beer!

Spontaneous sex is always the best...it must be animalistic

FOXY Fern Hosh is an outdoors girl – especially when it comes to bonking.

The 30DD stunna revealed that, for her, bedrooms are just a bit too boring and that she much prefers to get red-hot and raunchy with a fella al fresco style.

The 22-year-old glamour babe said she gets a kinky thrill from risky sex in places where she could get caught out by someone.

Fern, from London, said: "I love nothing more than having a day out with my fella and things taking an unexpected steamy turn.

"Spontaneous sex is always the best. It must be an animalistic, need-you-now sort of thing.

"So if you happen to be out having a picnic – when the weather is better – or out at the cinema, what can you do?!"

"There's something so horny about doing something you shouldn't be doing and knowing you could get caught out at any time.

"It's also hot because it means your chemistry is amazing.

"It's like you'd explode if you don't have that person right there and then.

"My all-time favourite fantasy is going for a picnic in the summer months and getting carried away in a public park.

"The sun's shining down and we're lying on a blanket feeling so relaxed when we start touching and kissing.

"We're aware people are around and we shouldn't go any further but we just can't help ourselves.

"So we sneak off into some bushes and just go for it. We try to keep our moans of pleasure down but it feels so good.

"I imagine that he's pounding me from behind, doggy-style, with so many people around us. It's such a huge turn on!"

I have to watch wife bonk nine-inch studs

Dear Jemma,

MY wife is 24 with 32F tits, a lovely arse and shaved pussy – I'm 41, OK-looking but skinny.

We recently got a threesome going with a mutual pal from work – it was great to see him stripping my wife and groping her tits. She soon had his cock out, a huge nine-incher. I'm only just over three inches when erect and I've never managed to bring my wife to orgasm with my cock – she always has to play with herself to make herself come. Anyway, her eyes popped out when she saw our friend's massive tackle and she giggled as she started to lick and suck on it. Then she said that she was desperate to get it inside her and I watched as she spread her fanny lips and our pal eased himself in. She was screaming the house down and I watched her come three times in no time. I managed to get my cock in her mouth while this was going on, but spurted in a few seconds and never got a sniff after that.

Pushed

We've repeated this a few times but I always quickly get pushed aside as she plays the complete slut for our pal.

Last week at a work's night out, she invited him and a 52-year-old guy in her department back to our place. As soon as we got back she suggested a game of strip poker and that swiftly turned in to a dick-size contest. She was almost drooling, and declared a draw between the two others.

They then stripped her and made her lie on the kitchen table. They took it in turns to finger her and when one went down to get his tongue in, the other slipped his cock in her mouth.

She spent the night getting double-ended and then they gave her double-penetration. I was forced to watch all this and wasn't invited to join in. Now she tells me this is how she wants our marriage to continue.

Should I swallow my pride and think myself lucky to see her putting on slutty performances, or put my foot down and lose the chance to toss myself off as she gets fked by a couple of studs?

DD, Glasgow

Jemma says...

If it turns you on, stick with it.

Letter of the day

Dear Jemma,

I'VE been looking for a new house for a while. I went to an estate agents and I've fallen for one of the women who works there.

She showed me around a few houses and during my third viewing she seemed to linger in the bedroom. The house was fully furnished as the owners had moved to Spain.

Anyway, I tried it on and she was well up for it. We flopped down on the giant bed and she had her tits out in an instant and I kissed and sucked them before taking off her knickers.

She sucked me off expertly as I got my tongue to work on her slippery snatch, coaxing her hard little love-button with licks and nibbles.

We were both on the verge of orgasm when I flipped her over and knobbled her doggy-style.

I now make appointments to see houses just so I can shag her. The problem is that I've seen a house I like, but if I buy it I won't get to see much of this bird because she's married. What should I do?

PK, West Midlands

Jemma says...

BUY the house. You can still make appointments to see this woman as well.

Shaved by the gym

Dear Jemma,

MY wife started going to a gym a few months ago because – to be honest – she had turned into a bit of a porker.

Our lifestyle hadn't helped, we'd got into the habit of sitting in front of the telly watching box sets by the ton and stuffing our faces with pizzas and beers just about every night of the week.

Anyway, with plenty of determination it seemed to work. After a few months I could see the weight dropping off her.

The good thing was it did wonders for our sex life – we actually started doing it again as she got fitter.

Our nookie sessions got more and more intense until I was struggling to keep up. But the other night she emerged from the shower starkers with her chuff shaven.

She said one of the girls down the gym had said it was cleaner. But I preferred her hairy minge.

BM, Cheshire

Jemma says...

SEEMS to me you should be grateful you're getting sex again. Be careful, of she might find someone more appreciative of her new looks and energy in bed!

Dear Jemma,

MY wife is an escort and does most of her business from our house.

She was a prostitute when we first met and I've no problem with it – she earns a good screw out of it and it keeps our heads above water financially and pays for a couple of good holidays each year.

More to the point, it's never really affected our relationship and sex life, which is good.

I usually go out when she "entertains", but one night last week I stayed in when she arrived home with two blokes.

They went upstairs and I heard her screaming "fk me hard". I had a look at what was going on and saw that she had a cock in her gob and another in her fanny.

They were squeezing her tits and left her covered in spunk. Watching them with my wife turned me on. Do you think I'm a perv?

BP, Essex

Jemma says...

NO, you've just got an unusual marriage.

Dear Jemma,

WE went to a really great party the other week, my girlfriend and me.

Both of us got well merry and everyone was having a fine old time – until later in the night when I walked into a bedroom to find my bird being shagged up the arse by a bloke neither of us knew.

You might have thought I'd be horrified and up for giving the fella a good hiding, and at first I must admit I was angry.

But as I watched the bum action from the bedroom door I found myself getting turned on and I wound up having a brilliant wank while watching.

I left them at it and when I went back he'd gone and my bird, who was well pissed, still had her bare arse in the air.

So I thought I'd have a bit of the bum fun and tried to stick my cock in her ring.

But she rounded on me and asked what the hell I was playing at. I can't weigh it up – she lets a stranger bum her but not me?

RF, Hants

Jemma says...

IT'S her arse to do with what she pleases. Try asking next time.

KELLI SMITH

LEWIS Anders can sleep well tonight knowing that he got Kelli Smith's impressive 32C funbags into the paper.

The store manager from Warrington is a huge admirer of the 26-year-old but has been left wanting more of the Derby-born babe.

Lewis, 40 said: "All of the Sport babes are top notch but Kelli is particularly special and always catches my eye."

"I used to love seeing her but she hasn't featured for a while and I could really do with a few more snaps."

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to interactive Midweek Sport - where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see - TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service - UNIQUE to British newspapers - is totally FREE!

Just drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

FI STEVENS

Fi Stevens makes an appearance this week thanks to everyone who wrote in asking for her.

Aaron Mellor, 37 was just one of our readers who got in touch for another saucy snap of the Basingstoke beauty.

The Geordie grocer told us he goes absolutely bananas over the 28-year-old's whopping 32D melons.

He said: "I'm a huge fan of Fi Stevens. I always keep an eye out for when she's next going to pop up. Please put her back in."

MICHELLE THORNE

KIERAN Davies, 25, was one of those who pleaded for the return of busty Michelle Thorne.

The Plymouth-based butcher told us no matter how busy he is, he always finds the time to sit down with his favourite paper.

And although every babe we feature gets a big two thumbs-up from Kieran, its 30-year-old Michelle who really tickles his fancy.

He said: "There's just something about Michelle. She's absolutely unreal!"

So for Kieran, here's another sexy snap of the Bristol-born sexpot and her eye-watering 32E bongos.

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

Brionny Blakely says...

BEFORE modelling, I used to work in a huge office and I can tell you there is nothing steamier than making eyes at a sexy colleague from across the room.

I'm not particularly shy so it was always me that suggested having a quickie in the toilets. It felt really naughty, and it always got me excited!

Janie McKenna says...

MOST people get bored at some time or other in an office, and nothing helps pass the time quicker than imagining getting a good seeing-to in the stationary cupboard.

I've never actually done it though, but if someone takes my fancy they definitely know about it. There's nothing wrong with sending a few naughty emails or texts to the object of your desires either.

Brits go bonkers for sex at work!

By SAM WALKER

samw@sundaysport.co.uk

A QUARTER of people say they would cheat on their partners to get ahead at work – and a fifth admit they shag IN the office!

A saucy sex poll has revealed that while the average sex drive of Brits is flopping, more people are bonking in the work place.

Since 2008, the number of people in full time employment having sex with a work pal has increased by 10 per cent – hitting a stiffy-inducing 42% this year.

And half of them admitted to getting it on while at work.

For the British Sexual Behaviour study, 1,052 adults were interviewed by Opinion Research.

Lovehoney's resident sex expert Annabelle Knight said: "The workplace is often the backdrop for a fling or the start of a new relationship.

"It is interesting that there is a fair bit of unrequited love out there – with more than a quarter of British people saying they fancy someone in their workplace.

Flirting

"The majority of us flirt at work – and that can be completely harmless.

"Flirting can be a good way of creating a rapport with a colleague and showing that you respect them."

The sex poll shows that when broken down into gender 38% of men and 33% of women have slept with a work colleague, and they are also much more likely than women to have done so in their place of work (24% and 15% respectively).

But only 14% of all office romances are designed to help people move up the career ladder.

But again, it's men that are more likely to dip their wick to increase their employment prospects, with 22% prepared to bonk their way to the top.

But only 7% of women admitted shagging a colleague to improve their employment status.

Carly Stacey says...

LADS who I've worked with in the past were always staring at my boobs from across the room. I would catch them taking a peak when they walked by and I made sure they got a good look by wearing a low-cut top. In the past I have thought about maybe sleeping with the boss – to get a salary increase. But I didn't go through with it – it stayed as just a fantasy of mine.

SAUCY Kami Arias admitted she gets wet-knickered at the thought of some ladylove – but only if her fella can join in.

The energetic 23-year-old told how she enjoys going at it three times a day with her man.

Spice

But Bolton-born beauty Kami claims the constant bonking isn't enough – and she often invites her mates around to spice up the action.

And as she showed of her pert 32C pair she revealed her all-in shagging action isn't just limited to the bedroom. Kami said: "It's not that I don't love a good old fashioned seeing-to, but there's something about the soft curves of a woman that turns me on.

"For my perfect night in I'd get rammed hard by my boyfriend while sticking my head between the legs of a lovely lady. Just thinking about it gets me going.

"But I could never be a lesbian, there has to be a cock in there somewhere."

She added: "There's nothing sexier than feeling the cold tiles on my back as we go at it on the kitchen floor.

"Though we do have to be careful that we close the curtains first!"

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

TALENT:
Kemar Roofe
is a real gem for Oxford

HIDDEN GEM ROOFE CAN GO RIGHT TO TOP

DAGENHAM & REDBRIDGE v OXFORD UNITED

★ It's a pretty quiet midweek but do not panic there is still plenty of opportunities for us to take some more cash off those bookmakers.

Oxford United head to Dagenham & Redbridge tonight in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy and they should thump them. The home team are on a poor run in League Two and sit rock bottom. They have only managed to win one league match out of 16. In contrast, the U's are flying and currently sit second in the table and have only been beaten twice in 16 matches.

One of the main reasons for Oxford's good form is Roofe and Sercombe are smashing in goals for fun from midfield. They have both netted an impressive eight times this season.

It's 22-year-old Kemar Roofe who has really been catching the eye. The midfielder looks capable of playing at a much higher level and his tally of seven league goals in just 15 matches tells the story. His other was a 40-yard lob against Championship outfit Brentford in the League Cup. If there is a better midfielder in League Two I've not seen him.

Oxford are available at 7/9 and although that price won't change our lives I'd make them my midweek banker. If you want something a bit tasty what about 5/2 Roofe to score and Oxford Utd to win.

SOUTHEND v BRISTOL R

★ Bristol Rovers just got dumped out of the FA Cup by Chesham at home. How on earth is Darrell Clarke going to pick up his men after that and go to get a positive result away at Southend in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy.

I've news for you he is not and the only major surprise to me is the price of Southend. They have an experienced boss in Phil Brown and he's got a decent side definitely capable of sinking Bristol Rovers tonight.

13/10 is a cracking price for a Southend victory or if you fancy something a bit bigger look at the 7/2 David Mooney to score and Southend to win.

NORWAY v HUNGARY

★ Norway and Hungary take each other on in Euro 2016 qualifying play-off tomorrow. You have to cast your mind all the way back to 1981 for the last time Hungary beat Norway.

That night they ripped the Norwegians apart winning 4-1.

I've good news for any Norwegian fans as the same will not be happening tomorrow night.

Norway finished third in Group H behind Italy and Croatia and they should be good enough to take an advantage in to the second leg on Sunday.

It's been a long wait for Norway who have not made a Euro final since 2000 but that wait should be over here.

Back Norway at 20/21 to win this first leg or if you want something bigger Jo Berget to score and Norway to win at 13/5.

DONKEY OF THE WEEK

★ Just who had me going eeyore this weekend? I have to say this week we have a pretty long list of candidates.

Heurelo Gomes (top) returned to comical goalkeeping this week for Watford, Adam Federici only had one shot to save but he could not manage that for Bournemouth, Diego Costa put in a right stinker for Chelsea and he must now surely be dropped, Kevin De Bruyne missed from five yards trying to be clever and cost Man City two precious points and last on the shortlist is Saido Berahino the Baggies front man missed a glorious chance by ducking out of a header.

Heurelo Gomes and Saido Berahino breathe a huge sigh of relief because I'm not sure how but you've just missed the 'Donkey Of The Week' title because I'm giving it to Diego Costa.

The Chelsea front man is about as much use as an underwater hair-dryer at present for the defending champions.

He made reference during Chelsea's defeat at Stoke that he thought Ryan Shawcross smelled.

I've news for Costa on current form the only thing that stinks are his performances.

The Brazilian-born Spanish international is a long way off last season's form that saw him fire in 21 goals for the Blues.

Don't take my word for it this is what you think;

@JP_CFC68: Whisper it quietly but #Costa is becoming a liability. #Remy deserves to start the next few games, see how he gets on #cfc
@carassjoe: What odds Diego Costa gets moved on in January? #cfc #costa
@daley_josh: @worldsoccertalk the only thing that stunk was costa's woeful performance #child #scfc #cfc #costashawcross #costa #shawcross

@Dan_Fuller1: If Costa wants to go home to Madrid let him go. Literally does nothing all game but want to fight #CFC #costa

11-TIME CHAMPION JOCKEY DIES AGED JUST 63

PERFECT PAT

Racing stars pay tribute to Eddery

THE Sport Of Kings is united in grief after the death of Pat Eddery.

The 11-times champion Flat jockey has died aged 63.

His career in the saddle spanned 35 years and a host of golden moments — not least when he rode Dancing Brave to win the 1986 Arc.

It was a brilliantly-timed ride that summed up Eddery's brilliance.

He rode more than 4,600 winners, making him number two on the all-time winner list to Sir Gordon Richards and ahead of the great Lester Piggott.

Veteran trainer John Dunlop supplied a healthy number of those victories.

He said: "Pat rode his first winner for me in 1973 at Bath and in all had nearly 400 winners for me

"I was lucky to be training in a vintage era of jockeys and the fact Pat rode for me on and off for 30 years tells you everything.

Battles

"He was a delightful man to spend time with, he had huge success but was great company at the same time. Above all, he just worked harder than the others I think.

"Silver Patriarch was special. To come back from being beaten a nose in the Derby and win the St Leger, and for it to be his 4,000th winner made it very memorable."

The 1970s and 80s were lit up by battles between Eddery and mini giants of the game like Piggott and Willie Carson.

The Scot was one of Pat's closest pals in the weighing room and they had many a showdown on the track.

Carson said: "It's a very sad loss. He was a huge part of my life because we were together and friends for a very long time.

"An absolute gentleman, one of the greatest jockeys ever to ride a horse and you could go on forever about all the great horses he rode, but he always told me the best was Golden Fleece, especially in the Derby.

TRIBUTE: Willie Carson

"He was liked by everyone. He was a gentleman, a nice person to have a night out with and I spent lots of time with him.

"Part of my life has gone as well with Pat

"When he retired, he hit a problem because racing had been his life. All he ever wanted to be was a jockey.

"He tried the breeding game which didn't work, he never settled into retirement.

"He's gone at an early age — 63 is no age at all — and he'll be sadly missed.

"It will be a great loss to the industry because simply he was one of the greatest ever.

"Pat always had the knack. When he was on a horse, he always did the right thing and got horses running for him."

GENIUS: Eddery at his riding peak

CROCKED: Tomkins

Tomkins to miss kick-off

RUGBY LEAGUE

SAM Tomkins' Wigan comeback is on ice after knee surgery.

The full-back is heading back to his hometown club after a spell with the New Zealand Warriors down under.

The 26-year-old has gone under the knife after an existing injury blew up in training for the England v New Zealand series.

Wigan chairman Ian Lenagan said: "Sam Tomkins was seen by a senior and well-respected orthopaedic consultant who recommended surgery to deal with the posterior cruciate ligament injury which Sam suffered while playing for the New Zealand Warriors early last season.

Headache

"The surgery was performed successfully and it is anticipated that Sam will make a full recovery.

"However, he will miss the start of the First Utility 2016 Super League Season and Wigan fans can look forward to him returning around the Easter period."

Tomkins missing the start of the season is a major headache for Wigan coach Shaun Wane.

He is stuck without a fully fledged full-back as the campaign kicks off.

Matt Bowen has been allowed to return to his native Australia and he will have to use Ryan Hampshire out of position there unless another signing comes in.

That seems unlikely because whoever moved to the Warriors knows he'll be on the bench when Tomkins is fit again.

WE DEMAND OUR MEDALS!

ATHLETES have demanded that the sport's governing body hand over the medals they were denied by Russians accused of cheating.

Several star names are furious that they have been denied golds after "losing" to rivals that were drugged up the eyeballs.

British runner Jenny Meadows (left) has been denied glory by Mariya Savinova (right), who is one of five Russians facing a lifetime ban for doping offences.

She said: "I have always suspected it but finally confirmation that the Russian Athletics Federation have denied me of my finest moments of my career."

Four other medal winners are

ATHLETICS

also facing long bans after a World Anti-Doping Agency investigation.

WADA has provisionally suspended Russia's drug-testing laboratory in Moscow.

It says an amazing 1,417 samples were deliberately destroyed by the Russians who were meant to be checking for drugs offences rather than covering them up.

A WADA spokesman said: "We have provisionally suspended the laboratory."

"A disciplinary process will now be started and a three-person disciplinary panel will now be set up." The report also uncovered a massive, deliberate, state-sponsored doping programme for many of its top athletes.

That's led to calls for the Russians to be BANNED from all international competition and STOPPED from hosting next year's junior world championships.

Remove

Head of UK Athletics Ed Warner said: "I am all for suspension until the systems in Russia are proved to be robust.

"The IAAF is meeting later this week to consider suspending

Russia and my strong advice would be that you have got to do that.

"If you suspend the Russian athletics federation you then have to remove the World Junior Championships.

"Cancel them and take them elsewhere.

"The worst thing would be for Russia to turn up at the World Indoor Championships in Oregon in March or to host the juniors and we find out that nothing has changed."

There are also calls for Russia to be banned from the Olympic games, which would lead to an international incident with president Vladimir Putin.

WITH HIS SPORTING ODDS AND ENDS

LONDON CALLING:
Jimmy Floyd Hasselbaink is being lined up for a return to the capital

Things looking up for Jimmy

JIMMY Floyd Hasselbaink has emerged as a leading candidate for the jobs at QPR (5/1) and Fulham (13/8).

And the former Chelsea legend has certainly done a terrific job at the Pirelli Stadium with Burton.

Brewers' fans will be bitterly disappointed if he leaves the Albion but the former Netherlands international has happy memories of his time in west London and he has been very well backed over the last 48 hours.

I wonder if David Moyes would say he has happy memories of his time in northern Spain with the former Everton and Manchester United manager sacked by Real Sociedad at the weekend.

Moyes had been linked with the recent vacancy at Villa Park and there were rumours that he was ready to jump ship and return to the Premier League but that is no longer an option. So where next for Moyes? He is 4/1 to be the next through the door at Craven Cottage, 12/1 for the job at Loftus Road and 5/1 to be the next manager of Swansea City.

Garry Monk is 2/7 at BetVictor to be the next PL manager to lose/leave his post after a disappointing result at Carrow Road last weekend and Moyes and former Swans' boss Brendan Rodgers are ready and one would imagine willing should Swansea chairman Huw Jenkins decide to call time on Monk's time at the Liberty Stadium.

Bournemouth are the visitors on Saturday week and that is already a massive game for the Swans.

Having been touted as a potential future England manager earlier in the campaign Monk now appears to be one bad result from the sack. Funny old game!

★ A wonderful evening of darts and I'm looking forward to seeing James Wade (8/15) and Raymond van Barneveld (6/4) go head-to-head.

Both have had revivals in recent months with Wade reaching the final of the BetVictor World Matchplay and Barney spending less time in Vegas and more time on the Oche! Wade for me 10-7 which is 7/1.

★ Three competitive jumps cards and six go to post for the feature handicap chase over an extended three miles at Ayr.

FINAL ASSAULT (2.50) is fancied to score for the in-form yard of Lucinda Russell under 3lb conditional jockey Dominic Fox who is good value.

The selection ran a personal best when third behind subsequent Mus-selburgh winner Village Vic in last month's Bobby Rention at Wetherby on ground quicker than ideal and the return to both three miles and soft ground should see the son of Beneficial score for the second time over fences.

At Exeter, OTOTO TRAIL (3.40) has missed a couple of engagements of late but the rain has arrived and Venetia Williams has her string in excellent form.

At his best going right-handed the selection can make a winning debut over fences in a fascinating four-runner chase over the extended two miles.

OUCH:
Morgan's hit on the helmet

Morgan's got bottle for chin music battle

EOIN Morgan says he hasn't lost his bottle after being hit on the head by a bouncer last summer.

England's one-day skipper returns to action tomorrow for the first time since Mitchell Starc knocked him over at Old Trafford in September.

Morgan says he won't give it a second thought when he walks out into the middle against Pakistan in the first one-day of the series.

The 29-year-old says the full extent of his injuries didn't come to light for a few days when he was concussed. He has had a special helmet made with extra protection — but he says he doesn't lack confidence.

CRICKET

Morgan said: "At the time, it was quite concerning."

"The ball hit me quite hard."

"It was about 10 days before I was, I suppose, myself."

"Balance, grogginess, it was a really weird feeling."

Humour

"It's worrying, to be honest, because the feeling of concussion is something I've never had before."

"I suppose being in that position, having never been in it before, worried me a little."

"I've watched it back a number of times; I've watched loads of footage of me in the past, how I've normally played bouncers."

But the Irishman has retained his sense of humour over the incident.

He added: "I still look back at it now and, hats off, it was a pretty good delivery."

"I've done a lot of short ball practice since then and I'm quite confident going into this series that I've progressed in how I play against it."

Morgan's new helmet has safety features that were brought in after Australia opener Philip Hughes was killed during a match.

Morgan said: "I got hit on the neck at Lord's and wasn't wearing a neck-guard, so I changed to a Masuri helmet."

"I feel more protected with the neck-guard that they have, so I went for the full helmet."

"I've had scans on my head to have a mould for my own helmet, which I'm wearing now."

Morgan says he needs to get back in action as leaving it much longer might lead to doubts whether he would be up to the challenge.

He added: "It's crucial to start playing competitive cricket again."

"I'm feeling all right about it all."

"I know guys who in the past have had prolonged concussions, so I feel very lucky to be back."

Coleman still backs ex-boss Moyes after a Real shocker

EVERTON full-back Seamus Coleman says David Moyes is too good a boss to stay on the dole for long.

The Scot has just been sacked after a year at Real Sociedad.

It comes after his nightmare spell in charge of Man United.

Moyes brought the Ireland star to Goodison from Sligo Rovers.

The 27-year-old says he'll bounce back: "I'm massively disappointed for him."

"He was great with me since he took me from Sligo. He taught me a lot about the game. He was tough but he was fair."

Disappointed

"I was delighted to see him get the United job and disappointed at how the last 18 months has gone for him because he is a great manager."

"Hopefully he will be back in the game soon because he still has a lot to give."

"He's respected a lot in the Premier League and I'm sure he'll get back in and he'll get going again."

"Any of the lads who have been at Everton for a while under him only have good things to say about him."

Carver's Cott what it takes

FORMER Newcastle head coach John Carver has thrown his hat into the ring for the Fulham job.

The Cottagers have a vacancy after showing Kit Symons the door. The Welshman had been in charge of the Londoners for just over a year having steered them to safety last season.

Carver was put in charge of the Toon when Alan Pardew headed south to Crystal Palace.

It's fair to say that it wasn't all plain sailing for the 50-year-old as Newcastle dropped like a stone.

From a mid-table position in January, the Magpies had to win on the last day of the season to stay up.

Despite that, he fancies the challenge of the Championship side who have designs on making the play-offs this season.

DEFENDER ON SIDELINES FOR AT LEAST TWO MONTHS

JUR KIDDING: Klopp (inset) loses another player to injury

KO for Sakho

YET ANOTHER CROCK FOR REDS GAFFER KLOPP

JURGEN KLOPP has been hit with a new injury blow, this time losing Mamadou Sakho for two months.

The Liverpool defender hurt his knee ligaments when landing awkwardly in the defeat against Crystal Palace.

It was first feared that the Frenchman would be out for the season with damage to his cruciate.

Scans have revealed that it is less serious — but still enough to keep Sakho out until Christmas at the very least.

By PAUL THOMAS

He needs to be checked again before deciding if he needs an operation that could stretch the absence for another few weeks.

The 25-year-old will leave a huge gap in the heart of what can be a shaky defence.

He has been rock-solid since Klopp took over from Brendan Rodgers and has cemented himself as a firm favourite with the Kop.

With Jordi Gomez out for the season, it leaves the German with only Dejan Lovren to come into the centre-back slot.

That's not great news for Liverpool fans, who haven't taken to the man who was signed from Southampton for what now looks like a ridiculous £20million.

Many say it's no coincidence that the Reds went 10 games unbeaten as soon as Lovren was ditched in favour of Sakho.

And that the run came to an end when the Croatian replaced him on Sunday.

Lovren is not long back from an injury break of his own.

Anfield defensive legend Mark Lawrenson isn't the only one who was glad to see the former Saint on the sidelines.

Awful

He said: "He had a spell of two or three good games at the start of this season and you thought 'you know what, maybe he's going to be fine'."

"Wrong. His decision-making is absolutely awful. 'It's like he has never, ever defended before in his life, let alone been a £20m international centre-back."

Another Kop idol, John Aldridge, also thinks it will be hard to fill Sakho's boots.

He said: "If he is ruled out for a long period it would be a massive blow."

"His recent form has been excellent and he's become a real fans' favourite."

"I thought it was refreshing to see him trying to play on after he had treatment."

"You could see how much he wanted to get back on the field for the fans."

REMI WON'T HOG FROG PLAYERS

REMI GARDE has laughed off claims that he'll pick anyone for Aston Villa — as long as they're French.

The former Arsenal man wasted no time in bringing back several players from across the Channel for his first game in charge.

Jordan Ayew, Jordan Veretout, Jordan Amavi and Charles N'Zogbia all figured in the battling draw against Man City.

But the 49-year-old (left) maintains that was because they are good players, not because of where they come from.

He said: "They are not back into the team because they are

By JOHN ANTHONY

French or I knew them already. In a fortnight it can be a different team. They did well, but the team did well."

"I think the spirit they are starting to show all together is better than I saw previously."

"I think Charles is an interesting player."

"He was quite okay in the training sessions and I thought he could be useful for the team. That's it."

Garde also says he couldn't care less about the opinion of anyone outside the club.

Villa sit rock bottom of the table with two draws and just a solitary victory — that's a five-point gap to safety already.

On the flipside, that gives the new Brummie boss plenty of time to turn things around.

Concentrate

The point against the league leaders ended a grim run for Villa that saw them lose SEVEN games on the bounce.

That was enough to get Tim Sherwood the sack amid talk of unrest among the players.

Although they rode their luck against City, there was no sign of any trouble in the dressing room judged on the effort of the players. And Garde is hoping to keep it that way.

He said: "I am not going to fight anybody outside the club. It would be useless."

"My job is concentrate on where the strengths within the club are and to focus on that and try to do it better for the team."

"We will train as much as possible as I need to know my players better, I need to see where we can improve quickly."

"I think the plan is to work hard because we have no time."

"We need to get more confidence and I am convinced that to get more confidence it is through the work."

LOYAL: Strachan

Strach backs Euro flops to come good in World Cup

SCOTLAND boss Gordon Strachan says he'll stick by his Euro losers for the World Cup qualifiers.

The gaffer has just signed a new deal to take the Tartan Army to 2018 — and he expects almost all of his current squad to be there with him.

He says there has been no talk of retirement from any members of the squad that failed to make the Euro finals in France next summer.

Strachan said: "They're all positive.

"Even Gordon Greer, who is getting on a wee bit, his Brighton team are near the top of the league.

"I've not got a problem with age, whether it's 17 or 37.

"The criteria is being able to pass the ball, football intelligence, being willing to come here and work hard.

"If you've all that, you are in with a chance of getting in this squad.

"What you've got to look at, before the next time we get together in March, a lot can happen.

Spirit

"I'm hoping people will throw themselves in front of us and say 'you must pick us'. Preferably younger but if it's older I've not got a problem.

"I hope there's a young superstar out there.

"Our system will probably be the same, unless two or three players develop who are magnificent.

"But I can't see that on the horizon, so we go with what we have.

"They all want to be here. The call-offs are very little and anyone that's injured, they still want to be here.

"You saw that with Stuart Armstrong and Charlie Mulgrew the last time.

"So we have a good spirit, you have to be part of that spirit. I can't see anything changing dramatically.

"What we have to have is more technical ability in the last third — and a wee bit more luck would be handy."

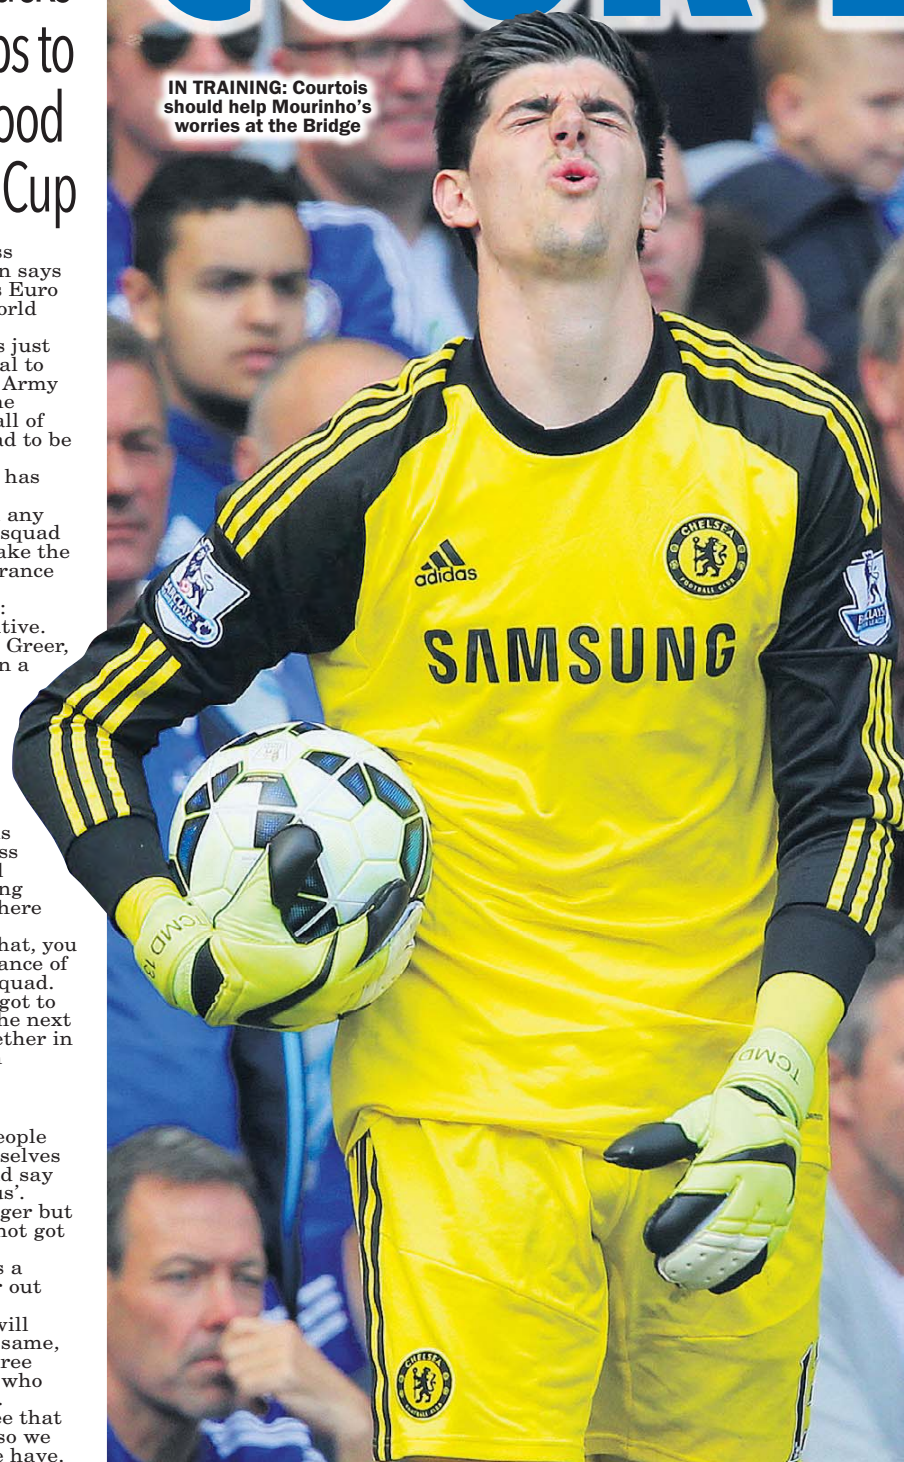

Scotland have a bit of extra spice after being drawn in the same qualifying group as England.

The old enemies clash at Wembley on November 11 next year.

SOME LIGHT AT END OF THE TUNNEL FOR CHELSEA BOSS

COUR BLIMEY

IN TRAINING: Courtois should help Mourinho's worries at the Bridge

Keeper returns to bail out Mourinho

By MARK NAYLOR

AT last, Jose Mourinho has had some good news with the return to training of Thibaut Courtois.

While you can't blame stand-in goalkeeper Asmir Begovic for Chelsea's crisis, it hasn't helped to have just about the world's best stopper on the sidelines.

The Belgian has been out since picking up a bad knee injury in training in September.

Since then, the Blues have plummeted even further down the league to sit just above the relegation places.

So the sight of him back on the training field will be a boost to everyone at Stamford Bridge.

Courtois has improved enough to start light training, including kicking balls.

That's a sign that he's almost ready to step things up.

A target of December 9 and the final Champions League game in Chelsea's group against Porto has been pencilled in for his return.

Begovic has already conceded 20 goals in his 16 outings for the club, keeping just four clean sheets.

That isn't good enough for a club with Chelsea's aspirations.

On the field, it has been just about the worst title defence in Premier League history. Scratch that, it has been THE worst.

Off it, the antics of Mourinho have left him on the verge of being sacked by owner Roman Abramovich.

He has a much poorer record this season than ANY of the other bosses that have been sacked by the Russian billionaire.

His 33% win record compares badly to the 66% victories that Avram Grant managed in his final campaign before getting the boot.

Claudio Ranieri and Roberto Di Matteo both had similar records before their P45 arrived, from just about the most ruthless owner in the Premier League.

One of the reasons why Mourinho (below) is still at the Bridge is the support he's getting from the dressing room.

Over the past couple of weeks, most of the key men in the Chelsea side have spoken out in support of the boss.

Even Cesc Fabregas, who was accused of leading a players' revolt, has publicly backed the Portuguese.

The latest player to speak out is Nemanja Matic.

The midfielder has not always seen eye-to-eye with the gaffer and was left red-faced after going on as a substitute — only to be quickly subbed again.

But he said: "We're behind the manager and you can see from our performances we are fighting for one another and for everybody involved.

"We think he's the right man and he's obviously somebody we respect and work hard for.

"It's just unfortunate that we're not giving him the results that our performances deserve.

"It's not a simple thing, it's not something you can pinpoint — it's just a collection of things.

"When things aren't going your way, they're not going your way and you just get punished for little bits and pieces.

"We just have to keep playing like we are and it eventually has to turn."

BILIC: FAILURE CAN STILL BE ANDY

By ANDY MILLOM

WEST HAM boss Slaven Bilic is determined to keep Andy Carroll at Upton Park.

Despite being injured most of the time, the big forward has a key role to play for the Londoners' gaffer.

He was moved to speak out about the hitman after reports that former club Newcastle were preparing a January bid.

But Bilic has told the Toon to FORGET all about re-signing the ponytailed one — unless they want to really break the bank.

Carroll (left) cost the Hammers £15million when he limped south from Anfield two summers ago.

But even that amount wouldn't be enough for the Croatian to part with him.

He said: "Some things Andy can give you, I don't know which other English striker has them.

"He is almost impossible to mark in the box, but he can also link-up play. He thinks about the game a lot.

"In terms of his physicality, he reminds me a lot of Duncan Ferguson.

"I never played against him, but I used to be a centre-back and you would look at him and think all you could do was limit his service."

Carroll has made just 26 top-flight appearances for the Hammers and has slipped right down the England pecking order.

Challenge

You would think he would be right up Roy Hodgson's street but the Georgie needs to be playing regular first-team football before he can pull on a Three Lions shirt.

And it looks as though there won't be enough money on the table to get the deal done.

Newcastle would pay no more than £10m for a striker who finds staying fit a bigger challenge than scoring goals.

It's hard to believe that Liverpool shelled out £35m for his services after he scored goals galore — in the Championship at least — for the Toon.

But the Magpies might be prepared to cough up if Man United succeed in their pursuit of Ayoze Perez in January.

The Red Devils have been linked with a move for the 22-year-old, who is expected to break into Spanish international squad.

He has scored 10 times since signing from Tenerife for just £1.5m last year.

NINE-AMITE: Vardy wants his scoring run to continue

Hot-shot Vardy isn't getting carried away

JAMIE VARDY says success won't go to his head after winning the Premier League player of the month for October.

The Leicester striker is on an incredible run of scoring in his past NINE games. He needs just one more to equal Ruud van Nistelrooy's record.

He is the first Foxes player to win the award since goalie Tim Flowers 15 years ago.

But the former Fleetwood Town attacker says the award is as much for his team-mates as himself.

He said: "It is an unbelievable achievement, but I think it just shows how well the club is doing as well as me."

"They are putting me into the position to score the goals, so I am delighted to get the award, but it is down to the club as well."

"Who knows if the scoring run can continue?"

Brilliant

"When the gaffer came in he said he wanted everyone to improve on what they did last year and I have doubled my tally already so hopefully it can continue."

"I don't set myself any targets. I just want to keep improving as much as possible."

"Obviously with the way it has started I couldn't ask for much more."

"It has been a brilliant start for myself as well as the team."

Given his modest start in non-league football, you would forgive Vardy if he got a little bit carried away with talk of clubs like Manchester United and Real Madrid chasing him.

For now at least he

By JOHN ANTHONY

wants to stay with Leicester and cement his place in the England squad.

Vardy added: "It is just all speculation, as simple as that and I am happy with what I am doing at Leicester and long may that continue."

Boss Claudio Ranieri couldn't pull off the double as Gunners' gaffer Arsene Wenger beat him to the manager of the month award.

The flamboyant Italian has had a cracking start to the season with the Foxes sitting in third place.

They sit just one point off Arsenal and Man City above them.

But Ranieri is realistic and doesn't expect the table to look the same way in May.

He said: "It would be a miracle if we were in this position at the end of the season."

"We are enjoying a great start to the season, but have some big games coming up. We will continue to do our very best."

UNITED MANAGER PLANS TO MY KIDS ARE ALL RIGHT!

Louis says youngsters can save Reds millions

By PAUL THOMAS

LOUIS VAN GAAL wants the next generation of Man United superstars to come from within the club.

The Dutchman has long been known as a boss who gives young players a chance.

He was a major factor in the emergence of some of the biggest players in Europe.

Stars like Xavi and Thomas Muller were given their chance at an early age when Van Gaal was at Barcelona and later Bayern Munich.

He's following the tried and tested method that Sir Alex Ferguson used so well at Old Trafford.

That is to make sure there is a smattering of home-grown players mixed in with the big signings.

So alongside the more than £250million LVG has shelled out since taking over, there have been plenty of academy graduates given a place.

Jesse Lingard is one of the most recent to take his opportunity with both hands.

He has been on the verge of making a breakthrough for a while and showed what he can do with a spectacular goal against West Brom.

But United fans have also been given a glimpse of the future with players like Tyler Blackett, Andreas Pereira, Paddy McNair and Cameron Borthwick-Jackson all making their first-team debuts.

Van Gaal really wants to bring more players through from the academy.

Not only does it save millions, but the fans are usually more patient with youngsters.

If young players don't work out, there isn't the same stick thrown at the boss either.

Quite the opposite is true as managers who are willing to give youth a chance are usually given a pat on the back.

Culture

And it's not like the policy hasn't worked in the past. You can't move on the telly at present without seeing one of the "Class of 92".

Just imagine how much it would cost at current money to buy Paul Scholes, Ryan Giggs, Gary Neville, Nicky Butt and, er, Phil Neville.

But they, and others like David Beckham, cost nothing and were mainstays of the most successful side in Man United's history.

It's asking a lot to reproduce that level of success. But with transfer fees going sky high, creating even one first-teamer from the academy is worth at least £20m.

That's a fact that isn't lost on LVG.

He said: "As a manager I am well aware that it is much better to produce players from your own youth education, from your own culture, than to buy players from another culture or country."

"And I have provided many examples in my managerial career of that."

"It is not a surprise for my board because they know."

Lingard is the name everyone is talking about. Given that the 22-year-old has been at the club for several years, it makes you

JUMP FOR JOY: Lingard and co can be the future at Old Trafford for Van Gaal (inset)

STAYING: Ronaldo

Cris won't Man up as he's Mad for Real

CRISTIANO RONALDO'S agent has poured cold water on reports that the superstar will be back at Man United next season.

The Portuguese has made no secret of the fact that he still loves the Old Trafford giants.

United feel the same way and made a bid to bring him "home" in the summer.

But Ronaldo's adviser, super agent Jorge Mendes, says he will finish his footballing days in a Real Madrid shirt.

He said: "Ronaldo will end his career at Real Madrid."

"He loves Manchester United and Real Madrid, but he'll hang up his boots at Madrid."

Paris St-Germain are also sniffing around the 30-year-old whose contract with the Spanish giants runs until 2018.

He moved from Manchester to Madrid in six years ago for a whopping £80million.

Despite Mendes' words, the talk around Old Trafford is that Louis van Gaal will launch a £90m bid for Ronaldo in the summer.

The Dutchman has been hinting that he wants more speed in his attack – and the ex-United hero certainly provides that.

Dream

Ronaldo himself has never tried to hide his love for United and it wouldn't take a lot to persuade him to return.

The £15m a year after tax he would be paid just for his on-field activities would be another draw.

Ronaldo said: "I feel passionate about Manchester United."

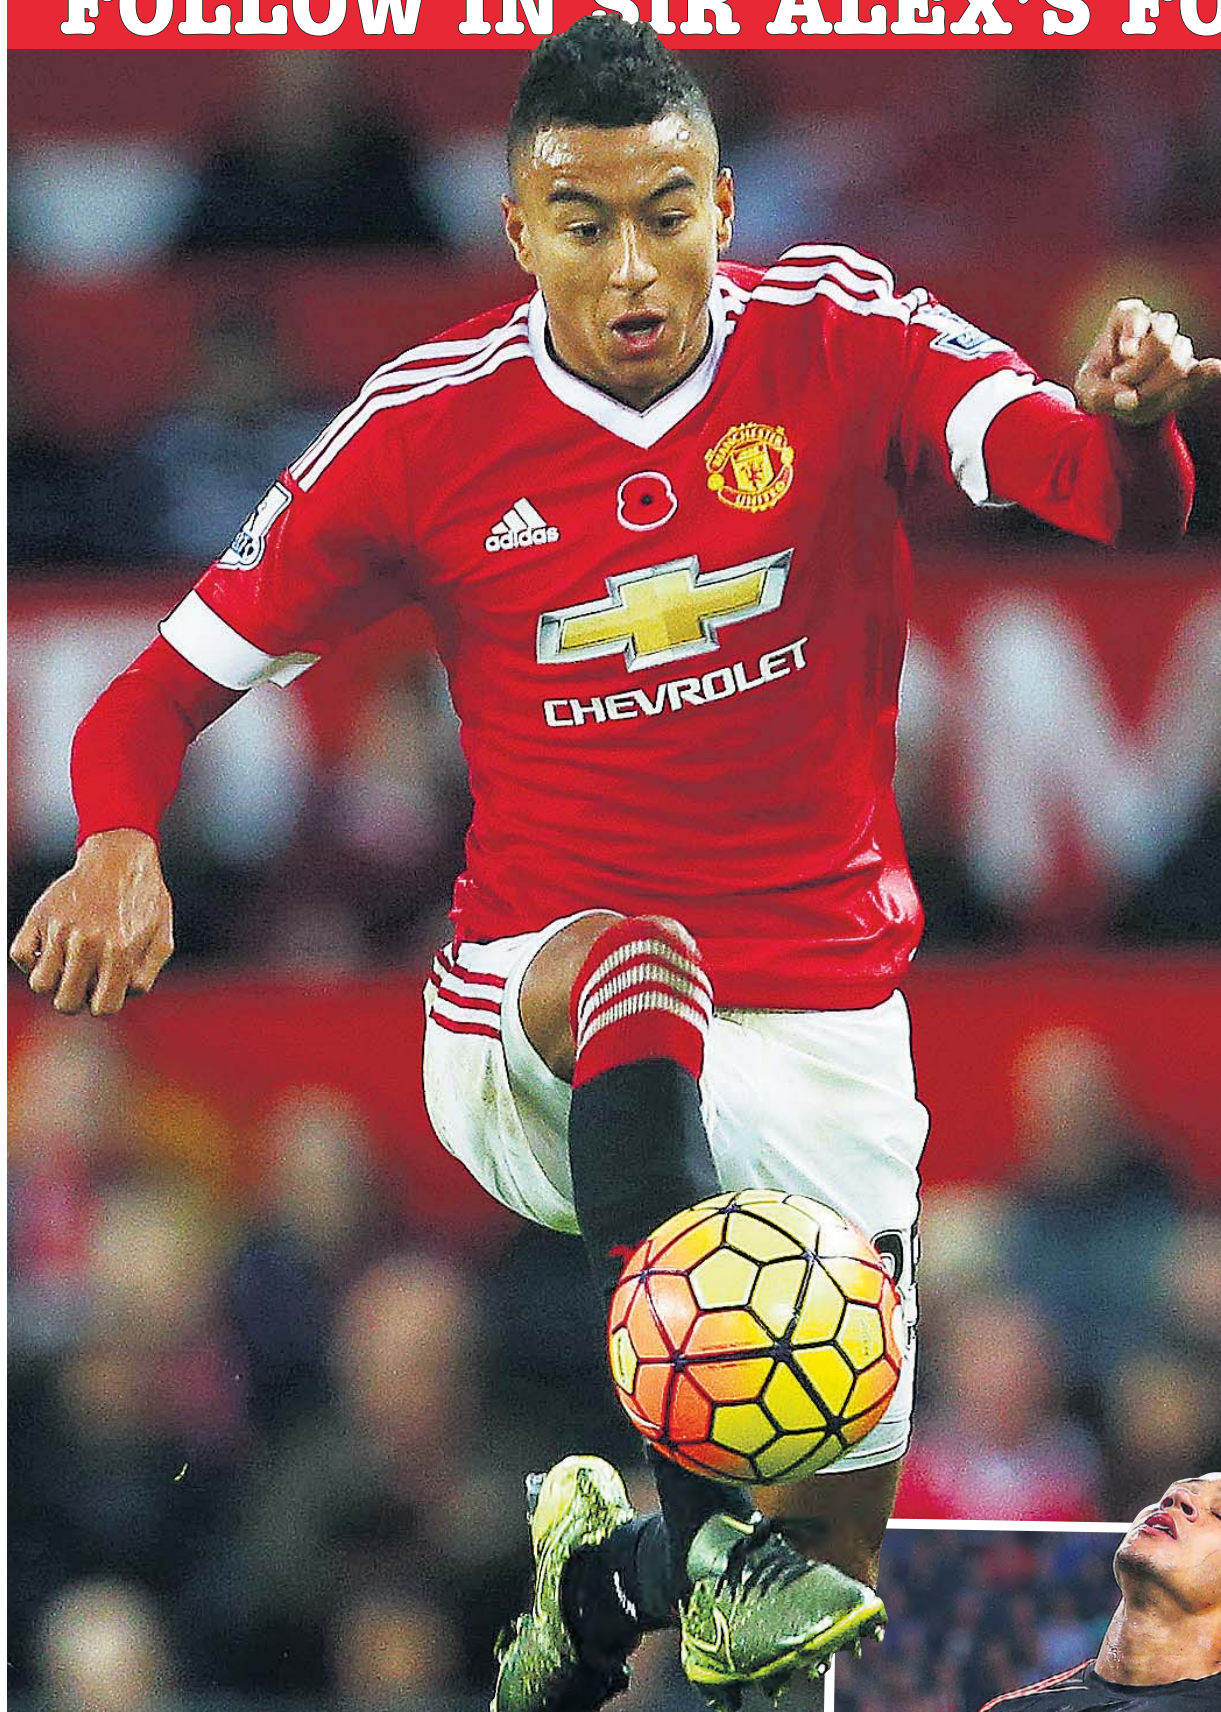

"I was just 18 when Jorge Mendes took me to one of the best clubs in the world, under the command of Sir Alex Ferguson. It was like a dream."

"Playing for Sporting Lisbon, then signing for Manchester United was like wow! It was great."

But there could be a spanner in the works to ruin any United move.

Ronaldo has sensationally said he would also think about signing for Jose Mourinho at Chelsea!

Assuming Jose doesn't get the sack of course, although he could have been thinking about PSG when he said: "Work with Mourinho again? Why not?" "I have got two more years on my contract with Real Madrid, but no-one knows what the future holds."

OUT OF FAVOUR: Depay has lost his spot to local(ish) hero Lingard wonder why United shelled out something like £25m for Memphis Depay recently.

And from the evidence so far, there's little between them in age, talent or field position.

After a promising start, Depay has quickly fallen down the Old Trafford pecking order, and faces a fight to win his place back.

Happy

Van Gaal is doing his best to keep a lid on expectations around Lingard.

But when the youngster comes into the side and looks a bright spark right from the kick-off, it's understandable that the hype has already been turned up to 11.

Van Gaal said of Lingard: "I would say it is much too early and we have to see if he is consistent in his shape because he is more or less the same age as Memphis Depay.

"So we have to wait and see, but I am very happy with his contribution up until now."

Much of the credit for unearthing the gems in United's youth ranks must go to coach Warren Joyce.

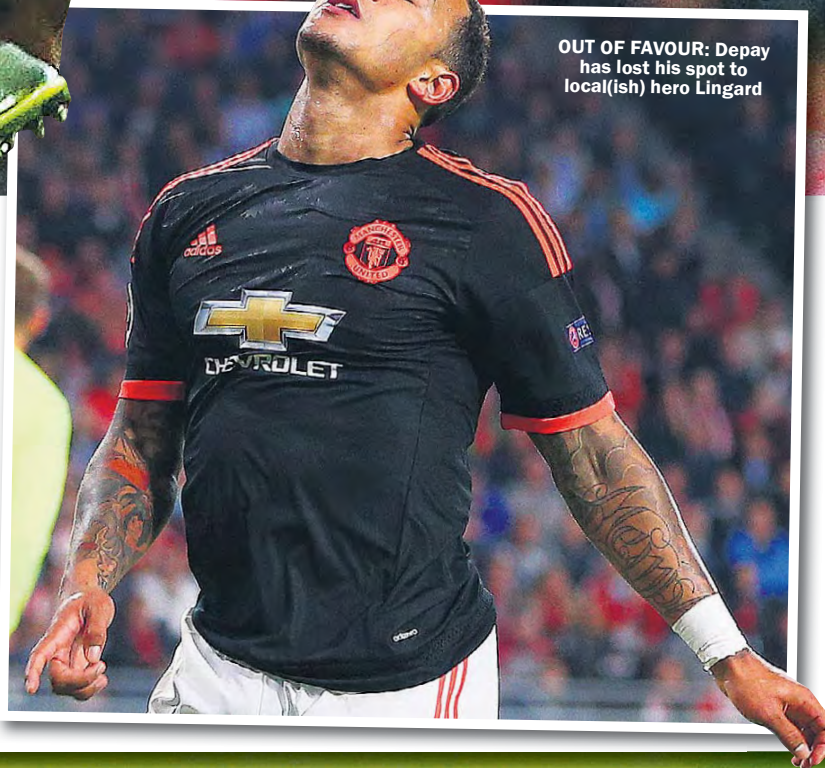

He has a track record of producing talent and Van Gaal trusts his opinion when it comes to young players.

That's why the boss didn't hesitate to throw in Borthwick-Jackson for his debut against West Brom.

The 18-year-old was picked on the youth coach's recommendation.

Van Gaal said: "I talked with Warren Joyce and he said the left full-back is in good shape."

"I put Cameron in the line-up without any fear, and I have to say he did very well."

SCARE FOR VINCENT ON INTERNATIONAL DUTY

BEL END FOR CITY SKIPPER

FEELING IT:
Kompany was forced out of a training session

By JOHN ANTHONY

VINCENT Kompany's club v country row could be about to explode again after he sat out training with an injury.

The Man City manager Manuel Pellegrini blew his top when his skipper played for Belgium last month despite carrying a calf problem.

The Chilean reacted by dropping Kompany for a couple of league games before patching things up.

But he won't be happy to know that the big defender was forced out of Belgium's opening training session ahead of their games against Italy and Spain.

Many will wonder why a player with 70 caps and an injury problem would be involved in a couple of FRIENDLY internationals at such a busy stage of the season.

Break

Kompany looked to be carrying a knock in City's weekend draw against Aston Villa.

He looked in pain at one point and had to run off what looked like a recurrence of his calf issue.

Pellegrini is still smarting from his last falling out with Belgian coach Marc Wilmots last month.

He said: "As the manager of Belgium says, he can do what he wants."

"In the international break he can use the players he wants."

"For me, in the same way, when you don't send a player to their national squad, you cannot use in your club, in the other sense it must be the same way."
